Chairman Darrell Issa Hearing Preview Statement

Tuesday's hearing of the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform, entitled "The Foreclosure Crisis"

The Baltimore area is facing record unemployment – hovering well above the national average at 10.5 percent

The American dream of homeownership, for many, has become an economic nightmare as they fight to keep their homes

Against the backdrop of Baltimore's crisis, the Committee will examine current questions and concerns regarding the housing market

There is universal agreement that our nation will not experience a full scale economic recovery until the housing market is stabilized

We will continue to assess the economic pain experienced by homeowners in Maryland – and around the

I look forward to working with Ranking Member Elijah Cummings (D-Md.) to make this an informative and
